visitor’s guide
Welcome to Rockingham County, North Carolina!

Whether you are here for some outdoor fun, to locate a business or to simply find a place to call home, you’re in a good place in Rockingham County, NC.

Nestled in the gently rising foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains, this area is full of adventures just waiting to be discovered.

Here you will find rural, small-town charm coupled with close proximity to big-city amenities in North Carolina’s Northern Piedmont Triad Region. Our most abundant natural resource—water—makes Rockingham County a good place for powering industries as well as offering numerous options for outdoor recreation.

You can play a round of golf, hit the lakes, go horseback riding, paddle the rivers, rush through rapids, play in our parks, pedal mountain bike trails, visit historic sites and museums or simply soak up the sun in our rural, scenic beauty.

So, come hike the extra mile. Run faster through the rapids. Dive deeper under the surface. When you’re in Rockingham County, you’re in a good place!
YOU'RE IN A GOOD PLACE... TO GO WITH THE FLOW

Paddle, tube, fish, explore. Rockingham County’s four rivers—the Dan, the Haw, the Mayo and the Smith—provide more than 60 miles of flowing fun.

Our rivers offer an alternative to whitewater with recreational canoeing, kayaking, stand-up paddle boarding or tubing for all skill levels. Here, you can have a leisurely float on calm, “flat” water or find thrills across Class II and III rapids. You can also spend time exploring our two riverside state parks, The Haw River State Park and the Mayo River State Park.

With a number of public access points, you can plan your experience for just a couple hours or several days. Local outfitters can assist with your trip, or you can bring your own gear.

YOU'RE IN A GOOD PLACE... TO GET YOUR FEET WET

Lake Reidsville is a recreational lake and park offering 750 acres of outdoor activity including camping, fishing, boating, water skiing, hiking, picnicking and more. The lake is a popular spot for anglers and fishing tournaments because of its abundance of big bass, crappie and bream. The park also includes a disc golf course and mountain bike trail.

In western Rockingham County, a portion of Belews Lake provides more outdoor fun. This tranquil lake spans more than 88 miles and over 3,800 acres. It is centrally located to many Piedmont Triad cities and provides numerous options for fishing, water sports and camping. It is also the home of Carolina Marina, a boating sales, service and camping facility.
We have not one, but two state parks here! The Mayo River State Park consists of over 2,200 linear acres along the serene Mayo River corridor near Mayodan in western Rockingham County. The park’s interim or “hub” facility, Mayo Mountain Access, offers a visitor contact station, picnic pavilion, 1.8-mile and .5-mile hiking trails, restrooms, catch and release fishing pond and various special events and educational programs throughout the year.

The Haw River State Park traverses the picturesque Haw River corridor in Rockingham and Guilford counties. The park’s Summit Educational Center is located on about 300 acres of beautiful Piedmont forest, fields, wetlands and uplands at the headwaters of the Haw River. The Summit includes amenities for lodging, meetings, recreation and special programming for overnight and day-use groups.

We have more than 20 public parks offering a variety of activities for the whole family from playgrounds, walking trails, paddle boating and picnic/event facilities to tennis courts, championship baseball and softball fields, soccer fields, volleyball courts and a disc golf course. Our Betsy-Jeff Penn 4-H Educational Center is one of only three in the state where hundreds of youth can come and “learn by doing.”

YOU'RE IN A GOOD PLACE... TO DISCOVER ADVENTURE

Go a little further in Rockingham County on our numerous trails and greenways. We have dozens of options for walking, running, hiking and biking, including trails and walking/running tracks found in our public parks.

The Smith River Greenway in Eden runs along the serene Smith River, and there are trails for both hiking and walking at the Haw River and Mayo River state parks. Part of America’s National Trails System, the Chinqua-Penn Walking Trail is a 1.7-mile loop set in the beautiful countryside. Reidsville features a greenway and Downtown Reidsville walking routes. The Knight Brown Nature Preserve near Belews Lake provides nearly three miles of walking trails, handmade benches for resting and taking in scenic beauty, two rippling streams and picnic tables.

Take in some great birdwatching at our three sites on the North Carolina Bird Trail: the Chinqua-Penn Walking Trail, the Dan River and Lake Reidsville.

This area is also known for its great cycling terrain for both roadside cycling and mountain biking. With six designated bike routes, one of which includes the 100-mile Rockingham Challenge, the roads here provide varying degrees of difficulty for cyclists of all skill levels. We also have mountain bike trails located at Farris Memorial Park in Mayodan and Lake Reidsville Park in Reidsville.

Rockingham County’s trails include horse-riding centers and farms. These equestrian facilities offer stall rentals, riding trails, lessons and even pony clubs for children.

YOU’RE IN A GOOD PLACE... TO EXPLORE THE PAST

Our roots run deep in Rockingham County. Much of our heritage stems from our natural resources, especially water. Like many other southeastern communities, Rockingham County’s history is linked to Native Americans and European explorers who were drawn to the rivers.

Today, there are relics along the county’s rivers that provide a glimpse into the lives of these early settlers. This area is the only place in North Carolina where you can see remnants of historic bateau boat systems. (These boats were used in the 19th century for commercial river transportation and considered the “18-wheelers” of that era.)

We have two history museums: The Museum and Archives of Rockingham County (MARC) and The Eden Historical Museum. Other historical sites include historic districts, houses and buildings listed on the National Register of Historic Places, a 19th century tavern, sites on the NC Civil War Trail, an annual music celebration for a local bluegrass pioneer and tours of the Karastan rug mill that made the 1928 “wonder rug.”

YOU'RE IN A GOOD PLACE... TO TASTE LOCAL

Rockingham County is known as a good place for making things — whether mass produced products, handmade goods or homegrown crops from our rich soil.

We’re proud of our agricultural heritage. New uses for long-standing family farms are yielding a new era of crops. Our local vineyards and wineries produce a variety of grapes and award-winning wines.

Multiple farmers markets celebrate our farming heritage and provide homegrown goodness to the community. Our markets and farmers are committed to providing only locally sourced produce and food from the region. We also have several venues in the agri-tourism business that host special events to give visitors a first-hand look at farm life.
